THE STUDYPRO

EXECUTIVE FUNCTION & STUDY SKILLS CENTER

Summer Programs

The StudyPro provides courses and 1:1 coaching to help students build the critical skills required for them to efficiently plan, organize, manage, and complete their work.

Our in-person and remote courses are engaging and focused on growth mindset and executive function strategies that are “made to stick”.

To learn why executive functions are so critical for learning and school success, see our Quick Guide.

SUMMER LEARNING @ THE STUDYPRO

EXECUTIVE FUNCTION Coaching
and
COURSES

The Study Skills and Strategy course provides specific strategies for students to build the critical skills to better plan, manage, organize, and complete work. This course prepares students for increasing rigor by identifying and removing friction in how they are managing their “process” and “mindset” of school. Students learn to better manage time, organize, plan, take notes, and actively study. Courses are available for rising 4th-5th, 6th – 8th and 9th – 12th and college.

1:1 Executive Function Coaching and private courses also available.

WRITING
and
COURSES

The Writing: Start to Finish course is designed for any student who feels challenged by writing or wants to be prepared for the increasing demands of the next academic year. In this growth-mindset-based course, we focus on teaching strategies for each step in the writing process. Students leave with models of how to produce different types of papers including research, persuasive, and narrative essays. This course can also be taught 1:1 or customized to support specific summer writing assignments/goals.

Individualized, 1:1 Writing Coaching is also available and supports summer work or prompts coaches can provide.
